Course Description: If you are satisfied with paper and pencil assessments and raised-hand responses from your students, there is no need to read any further; but if you are searching for engaging assessment methods that go beyond the page, you will want to join this session to learn great ways to assess students using interactive response tools and exciting online assessments! From first grade to high school, from one laptop to a set of iPads, we will show you how to use the technology you have to actively engage and excite students while finding out what they really know! During the first hour, we will include hands-on training in simple online assessment tools, so you will know how to make the assessments and use them in the classroom. Leave some of those pencils and papers behind! Join the future of assessments and watch your students come alive!

You've seen funny little black codes on cereal boxes, billboards, and brochures, but their most powerful place to be used is your classroom! QR codes are easy to make and can be used by every grade level and in every arena of education. During the second hour, come and explore with us as we share how to make them, creatively display them, and put them to work the day you return to your classroom.
