Statement of Faith

The doctrinal statement of the American Association of Christian Schools is as follows:

We believe that the Bible, both the Old and New Testaments, was verbally inspired of God and is inerrant and is our only rule in matters of faith and practice. We believe in creation, not evolution; that man and woman were created by the direct act of God and in the image of God; we believe that life begins at conception where the only genders (male and female) are divinely predetermined. We believe that Adam and Eve, in yielding to the temptation of Satan, became fallen creatures. We believe that all men are born in sin. We believe in the Incarnation, the Virgin Birth, the Deity of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. We believe in the vicarious and substitutional Atonement for the sins of mankind by the shedding of His blood on the cross. We believe in the resurrection of His body from the tomb, His ascension to Heaven, and that He is now our Advocate. We believe that He is personally coming again. We believe in His power to save men from sin. We believe in the necessity of the New Birth, and that this New Birth is through the regeneration of the Holy Spirit. We believe that salvation is by grace through faith, plus nothing minus nothing, in the atoning blood of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. We believe that God ordained marriage and family as the foundational institution of society. We further believe that the only Biblically sanctioned marriage is the public, monogamous union of one man and one woman that is intended for a lifetime and that any sexual activity outside of marriage is sinful and is detrimental to society. We believe in the Biblical doctrine of ecclesiastical separation, and therefore believe that churches and Christian schools shall not be members of or in agreement either with organizations or movements (such as the World Council of Churches and the National Council of Churches) which deny the fundamental doctrines found in this statement or with ecumenism which minimizes doctrinal distinctives. We further believe in the completed revelation of Scripture which allows neither for direct revelation from God today, nor for continuation of temporary New Testament sign gifts, such as visions, dreams, prophecies, healings or speaking in tongues, such as is practiced in the Charismatic movement.

We believe that this doctrinal statement (statement of faith) is basic for Christian fellowship and that all born-again men and women who sincerely accept it and are separated from the world of apostasy and sin can and should live together in peace, and that it is their Christian duty to promote harmony among the Believers.

Purpose and Profile

Purpose

The general purpose and objectives of the American Association of Christian Schools shall be the establishment, development, advancement, promotion, and protection of Christian school state and regional associations, Christian schools in states without Christian school associations, and Christian education in America and worldwide.

Profile

An Association of State Associations

The heart of the AACS is the federation of state and regional associations who work in harmony with the national association in providing member services. AACS is unique in that it has the strength of a national coalition of Bible-believing Christian schools with the practicality of locally controlled state associations.

Active Legislatively

The AACS has historically been a voice for Christian education in Washington, D.C. Today that purpose is carried on with even greater vigor. Protecting member schools from government entanglement, as well as promoting religious freedom, Christian education, and family values, continues to be the focus of the AACS legislative effort.

Committed to Excellence in Education

High-quality Christian education is a primary goal of AACS member schools. Outstanding educational programs are offered by AACS to help member schools enrich their academic programs. These include school accreditation, teacher certification, achievement testing, and others. The AACS is dedicated to quality, innovation, and excellence in education.

Separated Morally and Theologically

The AACS Doctrinal Statement is founded on the Word of God. Schools which affirm the doctrinal position and pay the necessary dues are eligible for membership. Membership in the AACS in no way infringes upon the autonomy of member schools.

Membership will not be afforded to those associated with, members of, or in accord with the World Council of Churches, the National Council of Churches, the modern charismatic movement, or the ecumenical movement.

Achievement Testing

Your school can receive valuable discounts on test materials when you participate in this nationally standardized achievement and school ability testing program.

Iowa & CogAT Testing Program

Consider These Values In Achievement Testing:

- Testing can help to verify the quality of your school's academic program.
- Testing can provide information on annual student and class progress.
- Testing results are a good public relations tool.
- Testing can help to determine if students are working at their level of ability.
- Testing can be valuable in class grouping and placement.

AACS member schools receive significant discounts on test materials, and you may purchase the exact quantities needed. No minimum purchase amounts are required as is usually the case in individual school orders.

If your school is not already participating in the AACS achievement testing program, give consideration to testing through the AACS program. You will find the value far outweighs the cost.

For more information, email testing@aacs.org or call (423) 629-4280.

School Accreditation

This program promotes standards of excellence and is one means of improving the quality of programs offered by member schools.

Accreditation is a means whereby the American Association of Christian Schools can assist member schools in building stronger Christian schools. Accreditation is voluntary. It is not an attempt to license or to regulate. In order to be accredited, a school must present a philosophy of education that conforms to biblical standards, must demonstrate that the school's program is in agreement with that philosophy, and must meet certain standards generally accepted by Christian educators. A school voluntarily participates in the accreditation process and can withdraw at any time.

The concepts of being approved, seeking counsel, and performing a self-analysis are biblical. Such verses as Romans 12:17; 2 Corinthians 8:21; Romans 14:8, 18; Philippians 1:10; James 1:22–25; Proverbs 15:22; and others speak of these concepts. The Bible exhorts Christians to be self-governed with the aid of the Holy Spirit and to seek wise counselors as they endeavor to grow in wisdom and stature. Counselors must be full of spiritual wisdom in order to give proper biblical counsel. The process of accreditation strengthens a school through self-analysis and then provides the added benefit of wise counselors in the form of an accreditation team who evaluate the school by standards that reflect both academic quality and fidelity to scriptural principles.

Every AACCS member school is encouraged to consider participating in the AACCS Accreditation Program.

Christian school educators receive a 30% discount in tuition for the MCEd program.

Teacher Certification

The AACCS Professional Employee Certification Program provides objective standards for evaluating and recognizing the preparation of current and prospective professional employees.

The Christian school, if it is to maintain a reputation for academic excellence, must employ the services of teachers and administrators who are academically qualified to assume their teaching and administrative responsibilities. Proper professional training is a prerequisite to quality education.

Academic preparedness, as important as it is, does not take the place of, nor can it be a substitute for, the spiritual requirements of Christian school teachers and administrators. A balance of spiritual insight, dedication, and love, combined with the academic preparedness to meet the demands of the classroom, is an essential ingredient for excellence in the Christian school.

Teaching certificates are issued for the following categories:

- Preschool
- Kindergarten
- Elementary
- Secondary
- All-Level
- Special Education
- Specialist
- Administrator

Inspiring the Next Generation of Educators

We all have a teacher, a coach or a guidance counselor we can point to as a person who loved their work and their students. Be that person for teens at your school by partnering with BJU to introduce students to the ministry of teaching through hands-on learning opportunities, guided online curriculum and mentoring.

National Competition

AACS National Competition is a platform for training tomorrow's leaders to achieve excellence in ministry.

Each year state and regional high school winners compete for national honors. Competition is held in 73 categories in five major areas: Bible, Academics, Music, Speech, and Art. First-, second-, and third-place winners are recognized in the closing ceremony of the National Competition. The AACS Cup of Excellence is presented to the state association that accumulates the most points (three points for each first place, two points for each second place, and one point for each third place).

One of the highlights is the preaching by a guest speaker in the services; these are times when many students make spiritual decisions that will impact their lives for years to come. Through AACS National Competition approximately 2,000 young people strive for personal excellence while developing stronger Christian character in their lives. The purpose of the AACS National Competition in the various stages of guided preparation and practice is for students to receive a professional critique while being carefully nurtured for ministry.

This event is the largest event sponsored by the American Association of Christian Schools. Schools desiring to participate on the state level should contact their state association office for complete details.

Student Leadership Conferences

Student Leadership Conferences help you train biblical leaders for your Christian school.

Why Attend?

These conferences are designed:

- To train students to accent the blessings and identify the problems they face as senior high leaders.
- To discuss how students can praise the good and confront the evil in their schools.
- To apply God's principles in life situations.
- To have leadership sessions, daily "God & I" times, school strategy meetings, and case studies of real-life situations.

Who Attends?

The conference is an intense training time for students in grades 10–12. It is vital for key adult leadership to attend as sponsors to oversee their group's strategy sessions.

If you are going to make a difference, you have to be different!

Visit www.slinfo.org or email mwilliams@tri-city.org for conference information, regional and local conference schedules, leadership resources, and more.

Youth Legislative Training Conference

The strength of our Christian faith tomorrow rests with the students we are preparing today.

Preparing Students for Citizenship Involvement

Each summer, AACS hosts the Youth Legislative Training Conference in Washington, D.C. This one-week conference gives high school students and recent graduates from AACS member schools the opportunity to experience politics through the prism of a biblical worldview.

The conference is designed to give students opportunities which will enhance their level of understanding of the American political system, as well as deepen their commitment to biblical integrity and character in leadership.

During the week, the students participate in a mock Senate. They meet with their Congressmen and attend a congressional briefing designed just for them. They glean important lessons from a wide variety of speakers who give them practical insight into the workings of Washington. The students also tour significant historical sites in the area.

As important as it is for Christian teens to understand the political process, it is more significant that they understand the importance of character in every role of life, specifically leadership roles. By attending the conference, each student has the rare opportunity to interact with men and women in the political arena who are known as leaders of character.

For more information regarding the Youth Legislative Training Conference, please contact the AACS Legislative Office in Washington, D.C., at (202) 547-2991.
